GJK Facility Services announces Key Executive Appointments

Leading Building Services provider GJK Facility Services are pleased to announce the appointment of Mr Shane Williams to the position of CEO and Mr Lou La Delfa as General Manager, Business Development.

After contributing to GJK Facility Services phenomenal growth in his previous role as General Manager – Business Development, Shane said he is looking forward to using his communication and people management skills, his strong background in operational management and his business acumen to ensure GJK Facility Services continue to maintain their market leadership in the building services industry.

Since entering the Property Service industry in 1993, Shane has held senior management roles with major national and local property service providers in Victoria and Queensland, and is an active contributor to the industry as a member of the Facility Management Association of Australia (FMA Australia) and as past Executive Committee Member of the Building Services Contractors Association of Australia (BSCAA).

Shane views continuing GJK Facility Services' evolution as a multi services provider in order to meet changing client demands, the ongoing training and development of their operational workforce, and the attraction of skilled management from other industries as some of the biggest challenges over the next five years.

"Fortunately, GJK Facility Services already have a strong culture of continued commitment to ensuring staff at all levels feel involved and are valued contributors to the company's objectives, both as a team as and as individuals," he said.

"The company has a philosophy of continual improvement and active communication with our clients to ensure we receive constant feed-back. This assists GJK Facility Services to maintain our service at industry best-practice standards" said Shane. "I look forward to meeting the challenges ahead and furthering our corporate and service objectives in my role as CEO".

Supporting GJK Facility Services management leadership is Lou La Delfa, who returns to the company in his new role General Manager, Business Development.

Lou's objectives will be to maintain and build GJK Facility Services' client relationship and business growth in the local and national arena, and to further the company's representation within the Service Alliance Group, (a national multi-service provider that offers the collective services of its members to compete nationally as a group).

Lou brings a wide range of management experience gained from Finance, Hospitality, Horticultural, Defence Garrison support and Facility management/project management within large public and private organisations to his role. Lou's experience ensures he understands client needs and how to formulate these into operational tasks that provide a total and seamless service provision solution. Lou's qualifications include a Post Graduate Diploma in Marketing, Tourism & Hospitality, Certificate of Business (Finance) and Defence Industry Study Course (DISC).
